Heartfelt appeal on the importance of cemetery preservation

Passage from the Rebbe

Rasha"b of Lubavitch ztz"l

Igros Kodesh, Part A, letter 176

...And our cemeteries are very abandoned, and animals graze therein due to the lack of an effective fence, resulting in bone excavation. Although the Burial Society endeavored to remedy the cemetery fences, their funds are insufficient to erect a protective fence, and it deteriorates rapidly.

Therefore, when I assumed my position in this place, I ached to behold the devastation, and was inspired to do a chesed shel emes be"H to build a metal fence that should be a durable solution. I am not seeking external beauty, just the mere necessities, and that totals the sizeable sum of ...

And in this merit [of participating in the costs], Hashem should spare you from harm and trouble, and bestow upon you and yours bountiful blessings...
